the tea room of the Waldorf-Auto de a pretty young woman sat discusscolong and other things with a ember of friends. The temperature of the room was just right and the scent of roses filled the atmosphere.

Up Fifth avenue outside came totteran aged and decrepit horse at-tached to an express wagon.
"G'wan there!" said the driver as he nged a tattered old whip down on the aged horse's hide. "Giddap! It's cold." Bang, whack! "Giddap!" "Oh, look at that man beat that poor ald horse," said the pretty young woman to her friends in the tea room. "I'm

She ran outside and jumped into sab, giving the driver orders to follow the express wagon until he saw a poman Debs was at Twenty-fifth street and Fifth avenue.

"Here is my card." said the woman. "Here is my card." said the woman.
"I am Mrs. Ronaids and I want the driver of that express wagon arrested."
Debs arrested the driver and turned him over to Special Officer Regan, of the S. P. C. A. The driver said he was Aria Morish, of No. 100 Orchard street. He was locked up in the Tenderloin station, and the horse was sent to a stable. The woman thanked the policeman and drove back to the Waltorf. There is no Mrs. Ronaids registered there.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS WILL ENJOY SHOW

Forty Members of 'Isle of Spice' in California. Company Will Give Performances in Bellevue and Roosevelt Institutions.

The convalescent patients in Bellevue and Roosevelt hospitals will have a treat this afternoon when the full chorus and many of the principals of the "Isle of Spice Company" appear before them in a special performance.

Forty members of the company will leave the Majestic Theatre in seven automobiles and go first to Roosevelt Hospital. All of the chorus will be in full costume, but when they enter the autos they will be cozily wrapped up so as to fortify them against the chilly wind.

I last May, and their marriage occurred a few days later. Mrs. Daly formerly was on the stage and met Daly first when extremely and then fainted. Their screams had brought the neighbors, and an ambulance was sent for. The child was still conscious when Dr. Smith arrived from the Bradford Street Hospital.

BOY'S NECK BROKEN BY FALL

Tuny hung about his tittle mistress, licking her hands and whining his sympathy. When the child was put in the ambulance he fought to be allowed to follow her. He was taken away by force and locked up in a room, where he whited and scratched on the door for hours.

Korke's "The Broomstick Witches."
When the players go to Believue they will have an audience of more than 500 in the main amphitheatre of the hospital. Stage manager Gus Sohike will accompany the troupe and manage the stage equipment.
When the seven motor cars start out they will be laden with flowers, which will be distributed in the different wards of the hospital.

Our New "Concave" Shoulder

Nothing is so good as a good thing improved. This aphorism fits with a nicety to our New "Concave" Shoulder.

Since all successful endeavor is marked by progress and improvement, and since things reach a perfect state only through evolution, so is it that our New "Concave" Shoulder in its present form is a better and more perfect shoulder than was ever tailored into coat of Bulky wadding and padding have been entirely eliminated, the lines of our New "Concave" Shoulder have assumed more natural proportions, there is no exaggeration of height or breadth. In short, it is a graceful, well-modelled shoulder that lends to a man an athletic appearance, and a shoulder that will hold its shape—always.

This feature, together with our "Closefitting" Collar, the perfect fit and set of our clothes, and the painstaking tailoring, makes manifest that Wm. Vogel & Son clothes are the best ready-for-wear clothes for men.
